

Virtualization Wins: Novarad Success With NovaGlass Imaging Software Leads to Glassware 2.0 and V3 Appliance Demand

May 20, 2014

Hundreds of Attendees Test Drive V3 Appliances and Glassware 2.0 Virtualization Software on SnapServer DX2 Appliances at Launch

SAN DIEGO, CA and MISSISSAUGA, ON -- (Marketwired) -- 05/20/14 -- Overland Storage (NASDAQ: OVRL) and Sphere 3D Corporation (TSX VENTURE: ANY) (OTCQX: SPIHF) are pleased to announce the successful launch of Novarad's NovaGlass imaging software at the SIIM Conference in Long Beach, California last week.

NovaGlass, powered by Sphere 3D is the latest offering from Novarad Corporation, a leader in enterprise medical imaging solutions, who unveiled the new solution to attendees of the SIIM Conference in Long Beach, California.

Designed to leverage Novarad PACS and RIS solutions, NovaGlass resides on enterprise grade appliances and provides users with access to a robust set of imaging features, while significantly enhancing operating speeds and workstation choices.

Utilizing Glassware 2.0™ virtual application technology, NovaGlass can deliver both Novarad software and Vendor Neutral Archive solution, MARZ, on a variety of computing devices including PC, Mac, iPad, laptops, Android tablets, and Google Chromebooks.

In response to high customer interest at SIIM, Novarad placed orders for Glassware 2.0™, delivered on Overland SnapServer DX2 appliances, and for V3 Appliances with Desktop Cloud Orchestrator™ management software. A portion of the initial order from Novarad will fulfill a deployment to one of the leading Hospital Systems in the United States.

Through a drop-in appliance approach, NovaGlass is able to deliver enterprise-class performance and reliability coupled with the scalability required to meet the needs of customers that range in size from small clinics to large Hospital systems.

Quotes

"We are very pleased with the overwhelming response we received at SIIM," said Tim Law, President of Novarad. "NovaGlass was a hit at the show and it was very apparent that we have a solution that addresses a number of market needs."

"NovaGlass resonated with attendees and further validates Novarad's commitment to answering customer needs and maintaining their position as a leading vendor of PACS," said Stoney Hall, VP Global Sales, Sphere 3D.
